QUOTE OF THE DAY

"Fairy Tales are more than true; not because they tell us that dragons exist, but because they tell us that dragons can be beaten." – Neil Gaiman

"It is not in life, but in art that self-fulfillment is to be found." – Wilson Mizner

"First we are children to our parents, then parents to our children, then parents to our parents, then children to our children." – Milton Greenblatt

"Let the world know you as you are, not as you think you should be, because sooner or later, if you are posing, you will forget the pose, and then where are you?" – Fanny Brice

“Take care that thou be not made a fool by flatterers, for even the wisest men are abused by these. Know, therefore, that flatterers are the worst kind of traitors; for they will strengthen thy imperfections, encourage thee in all evils, correct thee in nothing; but so shadow and paint all thy vices and follies, as thou shalt never, by their will, discern evil from good, or vice from virtue. And, because all men are apt to flatter themselves, to entertain the additions of other men's praises is most perilous. Do not therefore praise thyself, except thou wilt be counted a vain-glorious fool; neither take delight in the praises of other men, except thou deserve it, and receive it from such as are worthy and honest, and will withal warn thee of thy faults; for flatterers have never any virtue — they are ever base, creeping, cowardly persons. ... But it is hard to know them from friends, they are so obsequious and full of protestations; for as a wolf resembles a dog, so doth a flatterer a friend.” – Walter Raleigh

“All men are equal before fish.” – Herbert Hoover

Reimagining the Future of the Arts
Knowledge Center | The Wallace Foundation

The Wisconsin Arts Board and Arts Wisconsin to share ideas, information, and inspiration, in a series of conversations about the (reimagined) future of the arts, culture and creativity throughout our state.

The national series: The Wallace Foundation is hosting a five-part national webinar series, "Reimagining the Future of the Arts." The series brings together a diverse set of leading experts in the field to facilitate conversations around some of the most pressing issues facing the arts sector today, grounded in research commissioned or supported by Wallace.

And the Wisconsin series: Following each Wallace webinar session, Arts Wisconsin and the Wisconsin Arts Board will host a series of conversations on reimagining the future of the arts throughout the state.

Please join Karen Goeschko of the Wisconsin Arts Board and Anne Katz of Arts Wisconsin for a debrief and idea-sharing session.

Both series will ask: what will the future be like for nonprofit arts organizations? Strengthening community engagement, inclusion, and organizational health have long been on the minds of nonprofit arts leaders around the country. The global COVID-19 pandemic and the national conversation about racial justice and equity make such questions even more urgent.

To help explore these questions on the statewide and local levels, let's talk about Wisconsin's future. Registration is free for both series.

Here are the dates for you to know (all times Central):
